

January 12, 2004

SEBI has proposed certain amendments to the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeover) Regulations, 1997 ("Takeover Code") and has invited public comments before January 24, 2004. Some of the major proposals relate to:

- [illegible]

In case the promoter is a body corporate, entities that shall be deemed to be promoters as per the proposed amendment is represented by Figure 2.

December 13, 2024

December 13, 2024

December 12, 2024

December 05, 2024

November 14, 2024

September 15, 2024

December 18, 2024

November 19, 2024

August 26, 2024

Connect with us at events, conferences and seminars.

Click here to view Hotline archives.

October 31, 2024

Analysing SEBI's Consultation Paper on Simplification of registration for FPIs

FIG. 2

It is proposed that Financial Institutions, Scheduled Commercial Banks, Foreign Institutional Investors and Mutual Funds shall not be deemed promoters merely by reason of their shareholding; they shall however, be deemed promoters of their subsidiaries and the mutual funds that they sponsor.

1. The regulation granting exemption to the inter-se transfer of shares amongst the promoters from applicability of the Takeover Code is sought to be amended by defining the term "promoter" under this clause. This inclusion is intended to keep the exemptions under this clause to a minimum.
2. The term 'public shareholding' is sought to be defined as the shareholding by persons other than the promoters.
3. As per the current regulations, an acquirer (together with the persons acting in concert with him) holding 15% or more but less than 75% of the paid-up capital of a company can consolidate his holdings upto 5% of the paid-up capital in any financial year under the creeping acquisition route, without having to make an open offer. Under the proposed amendment, it has been proposed to reduce this threshold limit for exemption under the creeping acquisition route to 51% from the current 75%.
4. An open offer to be made under the Takeover Code has to be for a minimum of 20% of the voting capital of the company. It is proposed to qualify this requirement by providing that the acquisition under a public offer must not result in the public shareholding in the company being reduced to a level below the minimum specified in the LA for purposes of continued listing.

It is also proposed that in the event that the open offer under the Takeover Code is triggered due to the acquisition of control over the target company, and consequent to such open offer, the public shareholding falls below the limit specified in the LA for purposes of continued listing, the acquirer shall have the option to buy the outstanding shares in accordance with the Delisting Guidelines. Alternatively, the acquirer can undertake to raise the level of public shareholding to the levels specified for continued listing under the LA by a fresh issue of shares or disinvestment of his holding through an offer for sale or sale in the secondary market in a transparent manner. These options have to be exercised within a period of six months from the date of closure of the public offer.

5.

DISCLAIMER

The contents of this hotline should not be construed as legal opinion. View detailed disclaimer.

This Hotline provides general information existing at the time of preparation. The Hotline is intended as a news update and Nishith Desai Associates neither assumes nor accepts any responsibility for any loss arising to any person acting or refraining from acting as a result of any material contained in this Hotline. It is recommended that professional advice be taken based on the specific facts and circumstances. This Hotline does not substitute the need to refer to the original pronouncements.

This is not a Spam mail. You have received this mail because you have either requested for it or someone must have suggested your name. Since India has no anti-spamming law, we refer to the US directive, which states that a mail cannot be considered Spam if it contains the sender's contact information, which this mail does. In case this mail doesn't concern you, please unsubscribe from mailing list.